MONDAY MORNING SEPT 7 1863

Affairs in Mexico

By late intelligence there seems to be no doubt that the present Triumvirate of Mexico is disposed and anxious to recognize the Southern Confederacy and is now only waiting for news from Europe, as to whether Maximilian will accept the Throne before they act. If he does accept there is no doubt such recognition will take place forthwith.— There is much ill feeling existing between the French and Americans residing in Mexico in regard to this subject. One of the Franco-Mexican papers, published in the city of Mexico gives the subject its principal attention. It argues that by recognizing the South, they will make the United States perfectly powerless, as the Mexican ports on the Gulf of Mexico and those on the Pacific coast will be occupied by French squadrons to defend them. It proceeds to show that by giving the Southern Confederacy ports in which to fit out their privateers, and allowing them to take their prizes into these ports for adjudication, the utmost the United States could do would be to declare war against the present Imperial Government in Mexico. That, however, would be a farce for they (the Imperial Government of Mexico)" would be recognized by all the European powers, which, combined, would soon blot out of existence the great humbug which has been existing on the American continent—popular sovereignty—the common people attempting to rule! Such humbug has at last exploded, and now it behooves the European Governments to put the final stroke so as to preserve the peace and the Governments now existing on the continent of Europe."

Our dispatches this morning announce that Maximilian will accept the position tendered to him, if his brother the Emperor of Austria approves. Doubtless that consent will be readily given, and we shall soon see whether Mexico desires another war with the United States. In this matter, the Pacific Coast has an intense and startling interest, and present appearances indicate a pressing necessity that our Government should take immediate and sufficient measures to meet any emergencies which may arise. We hope the enrollment on this coast will not be delayed, but that by being placed in a posture of defense and defiance we shall be enabled to resist at the onset, any demonstrations which can be made on the Pacific by Mexico, against our territory or our vast, valuable and daily increasing commerce.

CAUGHT IN HIS OWN TRAP.—Vallandigham went to Canada to get English sympathy and was picking up a little when the Toronto Globe published the resolutions he introduced in Congress on the Mason and Slidell affair, and intimated that their author ought to claim or have very little attention when relying on the British flag for protection, as in those resolutions he had denounced England with a wrath and bitterness, hardly equalled except by the mania of one of our Roman officers who would starve the British rather than send them peas and bran. One of the defenders of the Ohio traitor then apologized for him, by urging that in proposing the resolutions, he only acted for party purposes, and to force the supporters of the Administration into a perilous position. Whereupon says the Globe,

"Very well, take it so, there was a strong feeling among the people of the United States against making the surrender, which Mr Vallandigham thought to turn to his own advantage and to that of his political friends.— Therefore it was that he endeavored to embarrass the President, therefore it was that for a mere trumpery party gain he went into direct opposition to the right, indulged in virulent abuse of England, and adopted a course which, had it been successful, must have plunged Britain and America into war.— Either way made his gain. If Mr. Lincoln surrendered the rebel commissioners, he thereby offended against the feeling Mr Vallandigham had done his utmost to arouse. If he accepted the resolution of the Ohio member, a war was thereby incurred which must have ended in the independence of the South. If this is the position in which Mr Vallandigham's admirers desire him to appear before the Canadian people, we have no objection at all to offer."

HEALTHY TRIP.—We learn that the favorite steamer John H Couch, Capt Holman, made a very pleasant excursion, on Friday, from Astoria to Baker's Bay carrying a large crowd of the Astorians, among whom were about one hundred and fifty women and children. The water did not keep so still and smooth as some desired, and therefore they felt a natural and uncontrollable disgust, which manifested itself in the usual way, and put the good nature of sundry old sea dogs on board to the test, among whom our venerable fellow citizen from whom the steamer gets its honest name, Capt Crosby, and others distinguished themselves by the paternal kindness displayed for the comfort and relief of the sufferers. The trouble, however, was only brief, and by no means general, so that all on their return felt that the pleasure was a full compensation for the pain.

Pictures are windows to imprisoned thought, consolers of loneliness, relief to weariness—they are [illegible] histories and sermons which can be read without turning the leaves.

PATRIOTIC REPORT.—We intended to publish before this the excellent preamble and resolutions adopted by the Oregon Conference of the Meth. Epis. Church, at its recent session, but as they are good enough to keep and to read long after their adoption, we are sure our readers will be glad to see them at this late day. We copy them from the P. C. Advocate.

The Stars and Stripes float peacefully over the place in which we meet. This, at the present moment, is a fact of great significance. We accept it as the chosen, cherished emblem of our national liberty, more dear to us than any other save the precious cross of Christ. A terrible and unnatural rebellion, gigantic in its dimensions and unparalleled in the history of earth for atrocity and wickedness, has called its myriad hosts to the battle field, and we are just now in the toils of a fearful conflict to prevent the dismemberment, if not the destruction of the best Government on the face of the earth. Myriads of lives, and over three hundred millions of treasure have been expended in the struggle and the end is not yet.

We are fully convinced our cause is just, and while its fortunes have been various, our assurance of final success remains unshaken. The recent achievements of our whole army encourage us. God is for us, and though we be severely and justly tried, He will vindicate our cause.

We long for peace, but we see no hope for it except in victory over every traitor in arms, and the conquest of every acre of rebel soil.— In a crisis like the present, it is the most solemn duty of every citizen to rally to the support of a cause so glorious in itself and so vital to the very existence of the nation.— Therefore,

Resolved, 1. That as members and ministers of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the bounds of the Oregon Conference, we cheerfully renew our vows of uncompromising and unconditional loyalty to the United States of America, a nationality we gladly acknowledge, and resolve by God's help ever to maintain.

2. That while it is our duty, enforced alike by the word of God and book of Discipline, to submit to, and co-operate with regularly constituted authorities, we will earnestly enjoin the same upon our people, "Putting them in mind to be subject unto principalities, and powers to obey magistrates and to be ready for good work."

3. That while we recognize the right of the people to discuss the measures of the Government; at the same time we would counsel, that in the present critical condition of public affairs, this right is to be exercised with great forbearance, caution and prudence, cheerful obedience rather than criticism, is the duty of the hour.

4. That our prayers and our most earnest efforts shall not be withheld from the Government in its labors to crush the rebellion and re-establish the Union. And we hereby assure the authorities at Washington and the army and navy of the country, that we sympathize most profoundly with their noble struggles and sacrifices. Nothing shall come between us and them.

MORRIS ISLAND DESCRIBED.—The Savannah Republican gives the following description of Morris Island:

Morris Island, the great prize for which the enemy is now struggling, under the belief that it is the key to Charleston, as the reader is aware, is the outer strip of land lying directly on the ocean. It is some three miles and a half in length, and its northern end crowned by Cumming's Point battery, is the goal which is aimed at by the enemy, as it bears directly on Fort Sumter and the channel leading by it to the city. At the southern extremity of the island is another battery pointing out towards the north end of Folly Island where the Yankees have been encamped for many months and constructing heavy works. This lower battery has been captured, thus giving the enemy possession of the lower end of the island. Then comes the new Yankee battery, just erected higher up on the island. Battery Wagner is a strong earth work near midway of the island, which is very narrow, and extending nearly across it. Its guns point southward, and it must be reduced before they can reach Cumming's Point, which could be readily taken in the rear.

CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER CASES.—The Claremont, (N H) Eagle publishes the following, furnished by a gentleman who vouches for its truth, which shows how suddenly some men change their tune and become patriotic when their "wallets are in danger."

"A wallet maker of Sunapee reads the daily papers aloud to his friends. Reading the riot news from New York, he stopped and said 'Glad of it, hope they will oppose the draft through the whole country.'— Next day, reading of the riot in Boston, he stopped and said 'Good! glad of it, glad of it.' The next day, reading the particulars of the destruction of property in New York he read of a store broken into, stopped short and said, 'Great Heavens! that is the store where my wallets are sold! I want to know if there is not power enough in the Government of New York to stop a mob!'"

FORT WAGNER.—This fort is an irregular bastioned work situated on the northern end of Morris Island, 2,500 yards distant from Fort Sumter. It is composed entirely of sand, which, beyond doubt, is the best material to stand the effect of shell. Its armament is six guns, but three guns have recently been mounted on the sea face to annoy the Monitors. On the southern face of the work all the obstructions that engineering skill can devise have been placed, so as to annoy our troops in case of an assault. On the northern side of the work there has been erected a musketry parapet, which not only commands the approach from the northward but enables its garrison to be sheltered in the event of our men gaining an admittance to the interior. It has ravelins, galleries and covered ways, and upon the whole is a very formidable work. The magazine is situated in the southern center of the seaward portion of the work and although exposed to the fire of our ironclads, it is so well built as to defy the projectiles which have already struck it.—Cor N Y Herald.

SPEECH OF GEN LOGAN.—We publish on the last page this morning some extracts from the speech of John A Logan who as the Representative of the "Egypt" District in Illinois, was well known to be thoroughly even intensely Democratic, we suppose he is still, but his plain and practical words show that he has no sympathy with those who put party above the country, who are so much afraid of abolition, and so fond of Democracy, that they would sacrifice the Union to defeat the first and to re-instate the last. He goes for the country—regardless of all other issues, so must every patriot.

A JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE.—Yesterday morning William Shirley was shot twice and instantly killed, by S Ellsworth, Esq. The facts as presented before the Coroner's inquest strongly justify Mr Ellsworth in taking the life of Shirley. Some four years ago Shirley was tried for the crime of perjury in this county, convicted and sentenced to three years imprisonment in the State Penitentiary. Mr Ellsworth assisted in the prosecution and against him and some who were parties to the affair, Shirley, after his conviction, made dark threats. He served his full term in the Penitentiary, and on his discharge in June last returned here. Since then he had given Mr Ellsworth and others against whom he harbored malice ample cause to know that he would seize the first opportunity to make good his old threats. It was given in evidence yesterday that but a few weeks ago he was disarmed of a knife by a man, with which he was rushing upon Mr Ellsworth, who was at the time seated in a covered buggy. On one or two occasions he took pains to put himself in Mr E's way and apply insolent and threatening language to him. He had since told several persons of his intention to commit personal violence upon that gentleman, and as he was known to be desperate at times it was believed he would do so the first fair opportunity. He had been for some time employed in the [illegible] manufactory near Mr Ellsworth's residence. On Thursday morning Mr E happened near this place. Shirley armed with a heavy club, attempted his threatened assault, but a fellow workman interposed and wrested the weapon from him and Mr E withdrew. During the day he took steps to have Shirley arrested but the absence from town of an officer frustrated the arrest. Yesterday morning as Mr Ellsworth was watering his horse in the mill pond near his residence he saw Shirley coming towards him. He had prepared himself to resist any subsequent attempts upon the part of Shirley to do him violence yet he preferred to avoid meeting or having trouble with him, and immediately led away his horse and repaired to his dwelling. When just at the gate Shirley came up within a few yards of him and insultingly addressed him, wanting to know if Mr E meant to have him arrested. An affirmative reply was given. Shirley remarked, "this thing may as well be settled now," and menacingly advanced. Mr E drew his pistol, a small four barrelled revolver. Shirley paused a moment, took a sharp look at Mr E and said, "why don't you shoot?" and again started to advance. At that instant the first shot was fired, and with the wheel about thus Shirley gave, the second shot came. The first ball would undoubtedly have caused death in a short time, the second made instant work of it. He fell and with only a groan expired. The Coroner soon took possession of the body and summoned a jury for inquest. The result of their investigation will be found below.

To those who know Mr Ellsworth no words are necessary to convince them that he was not only entirely justified in shooting Shirley but that he was absolutely impelled by the deceased to that act. He is universally known to be one of the most peaceful gentlemen in the land, and the very last to resort to harsh or extreme measures. He is a gentleman in every sense of the word. Of the deceased we have no desire to speak. He was universally regarded as a very bad man, and was a terror in this community. He has expiated the sins and crimes of his life by a violent death, and has passed beyond the judgment of mortals. Here is the verdict of of the Coroner's jury:

We find that the deceased, William Shirley, came to his death on Friday morning Sept. 7th, about 7 o'clock, at or near the gate of S. Ellsworth's residence in Eugene City, Lane county, Oregon. Cause, two pistol balls—one in the right shoulder, the other in the back near the spinal column, said balls having been fired from a pistol in the hand of S. Ellsworth. We the jurors, find from all the evidence that the killing of the said William Shirley was justifiable homicide on the part of S. Ellsworth, said act having been committed in self defense.—Eugene City Review.

SOLDIERS—AND STILL MORE SOLDIERS—WANTED BY THE GOVERNMENT—AND WHY.—It may seem to some, in view of the magnificent progress that our arms have made during the summer—in view of the fact that we have three great armies planted in the central and vital points of the Confederacy—in view of the fact that we command all its important rivers, that nearly all its great cities are ours, that one of its armies has been ground to powder, another has almost melted away of itself, and the third has just been driven back howling from Virginia—in view of these things some may ask, what is the use of a conscription at this time? Why should 300,000 fresh men be called into the field to do battle against a foe who is already at his last gasp. Those who urge this objection do not consider all the facts in the case.

1st. That the rebels, although they have been bruised and battered hideously and stripped almost naked, have yet a powerful vitality, a numerous, hardy and desperate army, a territory now that it is reduced, much more defensible than formerly, and leaders who are inspired by despair.

2d. That in winning these battles our losses of brave men too, have been enormous.

3d. That since May last, and even to the present hour, the terms of service of numerous regiments have been and are expiring.— For instance, as I mentioned to you in a former letter, nearly all the regiments under Gen Banks at Port Hudson were nine months men, whose term of service expired some days before the siege resulted in success, and who only waited for that event to leave for their homes. The terms of regiments are continually coming to a close, and next summer if things go so, we shall have but the skeleton of an army left.

4th. That as we occupy more and more rebel territory, a large part of our army has to be left behind as garrisons.

5th. That the average legitimate mortality of an army in the field cuts it down so rapidly that unless it is continually strengthened by new recruits, a very few years must witness its extinction altogether.

6th. That volunteering, though it still goes on to some extent, has been at a very low ebb for some time, owing to various causes, but principally because the war has passed beyond the era of enthusiasm, into that of hard, stern, unyielding, life and death reality.

These things rendered the enforcement—the speedy enforcement—of the conscription imperatively necessary. If it be not actively and everywhere enforced, our armies by autumn will so dwindle down that Jeff Davis, with his army recruited by universal conscription and rendered more effective by concentration may actually be able to push us back, again invade our territory and imperil our capital. On this subject Gen Halleck is very emphatic. "Sir, we must either raise two hundred thousand men this fall for victory and peace, or eight hundred thousand men next spring to prevent all that we have won from being wrung from us." This may seem incredible at present in our hour of victory and power, but the facts which I have will show that it may be something more than a fancy.—S F Bulletin.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to August 31st.

WASHINGTON, August 29.—Official information has been received of a skirmish between a detachment of the Second Massachusetts [illegible] negro regiment and Mosby's band. The attack was made by Mosby. Our men numbered but 25 and were attacked in the front and the rear at the same time. They fought [illegible] and [illegible] killed [illegible] and [illegible] to all the [illegible]. [illegible] Mosby was wounded in two places, [illegible] mortally. The rebels were afterwards chased [illegible] Centreville [illegible].

FORTRESS MONROE, August 29.—The Richmond Dispatch of [illegible].

CHARLESTON, Aug 27.—The enemy's attack on our rifle pits on Wednesday night was made about eleven o'clock. They were repulsed. On Thursday the firing on both sides was slow, and with no unusual incidents.

CHARLESTON, August 28.—The combined fire on Forts Sumter and Wagner progresses sluggishly. The enemy is working hard in trenches in front of Wagner. No further attempt has been made to shell the city.

PHILADELPHIA, August 30.—The steamer Bermuda arrived from Port Royal on Wednesday morning, from Charleston. The captain reports that Wagner is not taken and cannot be at present. He confirms the report that Sumter had been knocked into bits. Further naval operations will be carried on without regard to Wagner, the capture of which would be left to Gilmore.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, August 29.—Five deserters were shot to-day. This is the first execution of that class that has taken place in the army.

WASHINGTON, August 30.—There is no information, either in the War or Navy Department that our flag waves over Forts Sumter and Wagner.

The rolls of rebels taken at Vicksburg have been received at the War Department. They swell the list to 33,000.

STEVENSON, Ala. August 28.—The army of the Cumberland has crossed the Tennessee river at four points to-day, with infantry and cavalry. The 3d and 4th Kentucky captured the pickets at a point opposite Stevenson. Gen Reynolds captured a large force at Shell Mound, and took the camp on Falling Water Creek. Among the captured are the notorious guerrilla M[illegible] and the Tennessee rebel Congressman Cameron. Little or no resistance was made to our crossing. The rebels are reported in force at Rome and Cleaveland, along the Georgia State railroad.

CINCINNATI, August 30.—Gen Burnside is in the region of Kingston, and expects an attack to be made on that place during the week.

WARRENTON JUNCTION, Va., August 30.—A dispatch just received from Fairfax, says five guerrillas captured at that place this morning say Mosely was shot in the bowels and breast, and was taken to Richmond. The guard that brought in the prisoners say the people at Drainsville yesterday said that Mosely died near there on Friday. The prisoners don't doubt it, as they say he was mortally wounded.

White now commands a force north of the railroad.

NEW YORK, August 31.—The Tribune's special from the Potomac, of the 30th says no movement has taken place except among the cavalry, a detachment of which yesterday chased a few guerrillas, near the Stafford Court house; result not known.

Lieut Parker of Meade's staff, is supposed to be captured by the guerrillas. He left headquarters to visit the Thirty-third Massachusetts, and departed thence on his return and has not been heard of since.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—On the 12th Lieut Wood, of the Confederate navy, left Richmond with [illegible] four [illegible] wagons and about twelve wagons loaded with stores, ammunition &c. He went across the Chickahominy, taking the route of the army of the Peninsula. His intention was to surprise the gunboat stationed at the Piankatank river and kill or capture the crew and then put to sea as a pirate. As the boat was well supplied he would have had all that he needed. His wagon returned to Richmond. Every preparation was made for success. His men were armed with rifles and cutlasses. On Saturday night his party set out in boats and soon reached the vicinity of the gunboat, but instead of surprising the crew the rebels were themselves surprised. When within about 100 yards the gunboat was suddenly illuminated, and such a deadly discharge was poured into the rebel boat that only Wood and four men escaped.

PHILADELPHIA, August 31.—Richmond papers of the 29th announce the death of John B. Floyd.

CHICAGO, August 31.—New Orleans dates to the 19th say that an important military movement is going on, the character of which is not known. We are assured however that we shall hear of exploits soon which will make us rejoice.

BOSTON, August 30.—A Memorial Diplomatique of August 13th says his Highness Arch Duke Maximilian accepts with the consent of his august brother, Emperor of Austria, the crown of the new Mexican empire.

ANOTHER OREGON OFFICER.—Frank W Thompson, formerly of Lebanon, Linn Co, is now reported to be a Colonel of Va. volunteers, with fair prospect of speedy promotion to the rank of Brigadier.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—As a Mr Fay was riding out in the neighborhood of Mr Ed Long's about a mile and a half east of town, his horse became unmanageable upon meeting an ox team, and backed in between the first and second yoke of oxen and rearing up horse and rider fell backward, the wagon passing directly over them. The man lived after lingering about seven hours in acute pain. The accident occurred on Saturday.

SUPREME COURT.—To-day the Supreme Court of the State of Oregon will convene at Salem, Hon R P Boise, Chief Justice, Associate Justices Hon P P Prim, Hon C P Stratton, Hon E D Shattuck, and Hon Jos G Wilson. Many important cases will be tried, in some of which the city of Portland is interested.

RECORDER'S COURT.—In this Court on Saturday, John Everett was arraigned and fined five dollars and costs for being drunk and disorderly. He paid his fine and was discharged.

Mich South was also brought up for the same offence, and the same amount imposed him, but being unable to meet the exigencies of the case, he was transferred to the city jail for four days—ample time for calm reflection upon things in general.

COUNTY COURT.—The September term of the County Court, Hon P A Marquam presiding will convene this morning at ten o'clock.

ELECTION TO-NIGHT.—The members of the Washington Guards, an infantry company lately organized, will hold an election for officers to-night.

CAMP MEETING.—A large number of citizens yesterday visited the camp meeting, which is now being held about three miles east of the city.

LEG BROKEN.—A man, whose name we were unable to learn, while returning from a funeral yesterday in a wagon, had one of his legs broken by getting it accidentally caught in the wheel.

THEATRICAL.—This evening the Willamette Theatre will re-open for the fall season, on which occasion Shakespeare's grand tragedy of Macbeth will be performed with a fine cast of characters. G B Waldron as Macbeth, Miss Edith Mitchell as Lady Macbeth, P Thayer as Macduff, and B S Mortimer as Banquo. The tragedy has been some time in preparation, and from the known abilities of the artistes engaged, the public may expect to enjoy a rare dramatic treat. Mr Waldron has been untiring in his efforts to please the public, and he certainly deserves the success which we hope he will meet.

LUSCIOUS.—Mr John Powell, of Columbia Bottom, presented us on Saturday last a huge watermelon, which [illegible] twenty three pounds, the meat [illegible] was about the sweetest that has [illegible] our fortune to taste in Oregon. [illegible] our warmest thanks to Mr P[illegible] for his kindness and generosity, we are waiting in great anxiety and many yearnings [illegible] any other section of the country is as prolific as the Columbia Bottom in the production of fine melons. Who can beat twenty three pounds? Wish some one would try it.

UMATILLA HOUSE.—The Umatilla House, at Dalles is now under the conduct of Messrs Handley & Sinnott, who after having it thoroughly renovated and newly furnished throughout have just thrown it open to the traveling public. The house is in close proximity to the steamboat landing and railroad depot thus making it a convenient and desirable stopping place for travelers. Mr Sinnott was long and favorably known as one of the proprietors of the old Columbian in this city, and as he succeeded so admirably in that business down here, he certainly ought to know "how to keep hotel" at the Dalles. Give him a trial.

FRESH OYSTERS.—Lovers of nice fresh oysters will find a bountiful supply at Frank Dekum's—the first of the season. See advertisement.

SANITARY FUND.—The Ladies' Sanitary Aid Society acknowledge the following additional donations:

H W Corbett,* $50; collection at Trinity Church, Portland August 6th, 46 00; Mrs A Harker, 10; C W Burrage,† 8; L M Starr,* Robt Patten, Mrs Lownsdale, J M Strowbridge, Mr [illegible] 5 each; Mrs C Harbaugh 5; Mrs B F Smith and "Cash" [illegible]; Wm Masters, 2; J Steel, M McCoy, Mrs Pearne, Mrs DeWitt, Willie Gibbs, W W Humphrey,* Mrs Woodward,* and a Friend 1 each; Cash, 75 cents; Mr Cason, H Everett, Eddie Goodnough, Mr Westfall, W B [illegible]nett, Mrs [illegible] "Cash" five times 50 cents each; W[illegible] and "Cash" three times, 25 cents each; Lilly Glenn 20 cents. Previously acknowledged, $1,763 05; Total—$1,951 [illegible].

FATAL ACCIDENT.—As Mr. Fay was riding out in the neighborhood of Mr. Ed Long's, about a mile and a half east of town, his horse became unmanageable upon meeting an ox team, and backed in between the first and second yoke of oxen, and rearing up, horse and rider fell backward, the wagon passing directly over them. The man died after lingering about seven hours in acute pain. The accident occurred on Saturday.

SUPREME COURT.—To-day the Supreme Court of the State of Oregon will convene at Salem, Hon. R. P. Boise, Chief Justice; Associate Justices, Hon. P. P. Prim, Hon. C. P. Stratton, Hon. E. D. Shattuck, and Hon. Jos. G. Wilson. Many important cases will be tried, in some of which the city of Portland is interested.

RECORDER'S COURT.—In this Court on Saturday, John Everett was arraigned and fined five dollars and costs for being drunk and disorderly. He paid his fine and was discharged. Mich. Smith was also brought up for the same offence, and the same amount imposed on him, but being unable to meet the exigencies of the case, he was transferred to the city jail for four days—ample time for calm reflection upon things in general.

Extracts from another Speech of General Logan

When a country like ours is engaged in war, what is the duty of all its citizens? It is their duty [illegible] with all the power they possess. [illegible] say there is an unconstitutional [illegible] and an unholy war, and all engaged in it [illegible] by the Government [illegible] thirty-five States. [illegible] with the [illegible] rights [illegible] ing by the Government of the whole, what [illegible] the most damning conspiracy [illegible] of the infernal kingdom. What reason had they for this? Had the Government ever wronged them? Had it taken away their liberty or right? Not at all. It had treated them precisely as it did all the other members of the Government. No right had ever been interfered with, no wrong had ever been inflicted. [illegible] get a better Government? Ask any man [illegible] the most damnable conspiracy [illegible] organized another. Who [illegible] the father of this new Government? Why, Jeff Davis, [illegible] Now, what was their reason for doing this? [illegible] Jeff Davis and the [illegible] to the people [illegible] their minds [illegible] to rule or ruin the country. They pretend that they did this dark work [illegible] because Abraham Lincoln was elected President. My friends, was not Abraham Lincoln fairly elected? Will any of them say he was not? I did not vote for him—he was not my choice—but he was fairly elected and I determined to stand by him to the last. Now, they charge Abraham Lincoln with violating the Constitution. They would not have dared to charge Old Hickory with violating the Constitution when he [illegible] in a more summary manner with the traitors of that day. They knew the man too well. They would be scared of the very [illegible]. They say that Abraham Lincoln had no right to call out an army to put down this rebellion—that we, the army, have no right to put down that [illegible] it is unconstitutional to do so—but [illegible] our own people, our misguided southern brethren, [illegible] by any coercive means. What right had these rebels to set up a new Government [illegible] to elect a new President [illegible] our forts [illegible] Government property? Was it constitutional for these men to do this? In a word, was it constitutional to establish a Southern Confederacy? Was it constitutional [illegible] the Mississippi river to prevent your sending your grain down to a Southern market? Was it constitutional to seize on Florida, Louisiana and Texas, which had cost this Government so much money and blood? Was all this constitutional? Of course your traitors and peace men will say so. Now what has Abraham Lincoln done—what has he done? We have raised an army—we have made a conscription law—many have [illegible] it is true, because [illegible] to put down this rebellion, and thus we have been violating the Constitution. What should Abraham Lincoln have done? Should he have sat quietly down and said we can't do anything with these cases; they will go anyway, we had better let them go, there is no power in the Constitution to stop them? Should we have done this? No. Did old Jackson say so in 1833? No. He told them if they did not desist from their damnable treason he would hang every man of them higher than Haman. Nobody found fault with him; everybody applauded him. Now I say that if Jeff Davis was [illegible] violation of the Constitution, Abraham Lincoln, in opposing and defeating his measures, was obeying the Constitution as a converse proposition. There is no instance named in history where a Government of human power has not had the right to put down a rebellion against its authority and for its destruction. This rebellion was organized to break down this Government, and it is the right and duty of the Government, upheld by the people, to put it down. And as a consequence all true patriots have come forward to put this rebellion down. Jeff Davis says that the Federal Government is guilty of usurpation, that it exercises powers that are not delegated to it. My God! Jefferson Davis talking about usurpation, when every act of his life since the war commenced has been an usurpation. [illegible] Conscription Law [illegible]. What is a Conscription Law? Simply to raise troops to defend our Government. Jeff Davis's Conscription Law I suppose suits them better. The way he puts it in practice is simply to order all men [illegible] and fifty to report themselves at certain points on certain days, and if they don't they are arrested as deserters and shot. Now, let me say that if I were President I would have soldiers to defend my country, and if I found men trying to defeat my measures to get soldiers [illegible], I would hang them on the first tree. I would rather see graves mountain high, I would rather see rivers run with blood than yield to traitors. This is a country worth fighting for, and I want to see it stand forever like the eternal hills.

Many say "Well, we are for the Government, it is true, but we are for peace; we are for the Union, but we are opposed to the war." Well, I suppose we are all for peace. I know I am. Some people call themselves peace men. Is there a man here that is not for peace? Not at all. But how are you for it? Do these gentlemen tell you how they are for peace? I want them to tell me. Is it a dirty, cowardly peace—a disgraceful peace, that divides our Government—or what sort of a peace is it? If I were a politician or a statesman, and if I were to get up before the community and tell them I was for a thing, I would give them the reason for it. You hear peace speeches made very often. We are for peace, they say. We will meet them half way and shake hands on this proposition. We are both for peace. But I will tell you what sort of a peace I am for. I am not for a piece of a country. [Applause.] I am for this sort of a peace: before this rebellion broke out we had peace; before the rebels raised armies to fight against our Government we had peace. While the stars and stripes floated from Maine to California and from the lakes in the North to the gulfs in the South we had peace. While the same martial music was played in every town and hamlet throughout the length and breadth of the land, we had peace. While we had one army, one navy, one President, one United States, one people, we had peace. Then I say, I am for the same kind of peace again, and so help me God, I want no other kind. [Applause.] I am for the same country and the same Constitution. Now these other gentlemen who talk about a peace don't tell you what kind of a peace they want. Well, I can tell you. I don't want any man to understand by my argument that I am striking at any party or any set of men. I only strike at individuals who are trying to ruin the country. If, however, the shoe fits anybody I can't help it. This is a free country. He can do as he pleases about it, I suppose. Now let us see what sort of a peace some men are for. Some men are in favor of peace, expecting to gain peace by stopping the "further effective prosecution of the war." What does that mean? It means this: When we marched to Fort Henry that was an offensive prosecution of the war; when we marched on Fort Donelson that was an offensive prosecution of the war; when we marched on each and every battle field that was an offensive prosecution of the war. Their argument is this: A further prosecution of the war is unconstitutional, therefore we are for peace. They all declare that to be their position on this subject. When we invested Vicksburg, it was an unconstitutional act, being an offensive prosecution of the war. When we took thirty two thousand prisoners we went beyond the limits of the Constitution very much indeed. That was the most offensive act of the war, and we ought to apologize to [illegible] for having done such a thing. According to these arguments each battle we fought to open the Mississippi river was an unconstitutional fight. Was it unconstitutional to take Vicksburg? That was an offensive prosecution of the war. Then I want these gentlemen to tell me what they mean. They want us not to prosecute this war any further. We are to withdraw our armies from the South. We are to take them out of Mississippi, Tennessee, Virginia and all other States that they are now in, and cease to prosecute the war offensively any further. We are to say to the rebels "Now gentlemen, we won't do anything further, we'll quit a while and see if you won't behave yourselves." They'll be certain to do it, because they are that kind of men.

There is one other thing I want to say to you. It is this: I want to give the folks of this county an idea about it. They say John Logan, Billy Jack, Pol[illegible] and all of us chaps down in the army are Abolitionists—regular straight outs. Why are we Abolitionists? I want them to tell me how they know I was an Abolitionist. I have never made a speech until yesterday since the war commenced, except once when I spoke a short time to get some recruits. I have never made a speech since I have been in the army, of any kind that could be called a political speech. How do they know we are all Abolitionists? Did we tell them so? Did we say so? Why is it that they consider us all Abolitionists? Why, I will tell you the reason. It is because we are in the army and Abraham Lincoln is President. That is the reason. [illegible] low enough or do not want to take up with Abraham Lincoln because he is President, but with the Government. This is our Government. They were not fighting for Lincoln. It is fighting for the Union—for the Government. I suppose that if a man went to Mexico as a United States soldier it didn't make him an Abolitionist. If fighting under Mr. Lincoln makes every one an Abolitionist, I suppose that fighting under Polk made every body a Democrat. That may be true, but when they came home, if you recollect, they elected General Taylor, who was a Whig. I do not care a cent what they call me. All I have to say to any man who calls me an Abolitionist is, that [illegible] any other name would smell as sweet, and that they can call me any name they please. If fighting for the Union of these States with the old flag over me—fighting for our Government against rebels and traitors—if that makes me an Abolitionist, all right. I only wish there was a million more of them than there are. [Applause.] If that makes a man an Abolitionist, let me warn these gentlemen that there will be a great many of them. If loving the Government of our fathers, revering the Constitution, [illegible] the same Government and the same flag, is sufficient inducement to these men to call such names, let them do it. We have no objections. We don't care. We laugh at it. It is only fun for us to be called such names. We care nothing about it. We know that the country knows what we are doing, and God in Heaven who views the hearts of all men knows we are honest and true in our hearts. Would to God these gentlemen could say the same. [Applause.] No, my friends, it makes a man a patriot, nothing more, nothing less—to fight for his country. It does not make him a Democrat or a Republican or an Abolitionist. Whenever this war is over this is a free country. If we want parties then, we will have them. That's all. If we don't nobody will get mad about it. They had better let us alone and not call us nicknames before we get home. Let us alone until we get back, gentlemen, if you please. We will be the most peaceable and quiet men in the world. We will be perfectly well educated in all the fine arts and sciences and good manners. We will show these gentlemen some of the politeness we have learned in the army. We will treat one another kindly and respectfully, and if we get a little mad about anything, we will settle it right there. [Laughter.] But I suppose folks are joking who say these things. They don't intend anything wrong. I only ask them to just let the boys alone and let the people alone. If they don't want to be for the Government, let people alone who are for it. If they do this there will be peace at home. We don't think it makes us Abolitionists to fight for our country. We don't think it makes us Abolitionists because negroes run away. Just here let me tell these gentlemen who talk so much about Abolitionists and nigger stealing, that all the prayers that can be sent up—it makes no difference outside of proclamation or anything else—that machine is gone up, played out. It will never do a day's good again. [Applause.] There is no doubt of that, and the people of the North are not responsible. The Southern gentlemen have done it themselves. Nobody is responsible but themselves for the loss of their slaves. Let me say to these men now, who have such great sympathy for the people of the South and are crying out against soldiers—I tell them that these men in the South lost more niggers in thirty days after the rebellion commenced than they would have lost in many years by all the Abolitionists in the United States. I told you that the army which was in front of us stole everything they could lay their hands on. The rebels steal every single nigger they see and take them to some State where they think we are not likely to go. They are afraid the Yankees will steal them. These are positive facts. The rebel soldiers—men who never owned a nigger in their lives—steal them and run them off and sell them for two or three hundred dollars apiece. They say that the institution is gone, and they don't think it will ever amount to anything again. They just want to be independent of us—that's all they are fighting for. I believe if the people of the North stood on the army platform, the rebellion would end in ninety days. Let us go for our country, our country right or wrong, for the Union any way.

To this Complexion it has Come at Last.—The wife of one of our most eminent Copperheads was showing to a friend the other day the daguerreotype of a brother in the Union army, remarking that it represented the only member of the family she was ashamed of. "Why," remarked her friend, "is not your husband a Unionist?" "No," indignantly replied the lady, "he is a Democrat!" Comment is unnecessary.—S. F. Bulletin.

LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES,

Passed at the Third Session of the Thirty-Seventh Congress.

[Public—No. 30.]

An Act to provide for the appointment of an assistant register in the Treasury Department and a solicitor for the War Department, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the President be and he is hereby authorized to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for the term of one year, an officer in the office of the Register of the Treasury, to be called the assistant register, at an annual salary of two thousand dollars.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the duties of said assistant shall be such as may be devolved on him by the Register of the Treasury, and in the absence of the Register, said assistant shall act in his place and stead; and any official record, certificate, or other document, except ing warrants, bonds and drafts, if signed by the assistant register, shall have the same legal force and validity as if signed by the Register of the Treasury.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the President be and he is hereby authorized to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, an officer in the War Department to be called the Solicitor of the War Department, at an annual salary of twenty five hundred dollars.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the amount necessary to pay the salaries of the officers authorized to be appointed by this act, for the current and next fiscal years, be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Approved February 20, 1863.

[Public—No. 31.]

An Act temporarily to supply vacancies in the Executive Departments in certain cases.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That in case of the death, resignation, absence from the seat of government, or sickness of the head of any Executive Department of the Government, or of any officer of either of the said Departments whose appointment is not in the head thereof, whereby they cannot perform the duties of their respective offices, it shall be lawful for the President of the United States, in case he shall think it necessary, to authorize the head of any Executive Department, or other officer in either of said Departments whose appointment is vested in the President, at his discretion, to perform the duties of said respective offices until a successor be appointed, or until such absence or inability by sickness shall cease: Provided, That no one vacancy shall be supplied in manner aforesaid for a longer term than six months.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed. [Approved, February 20, 1863.]

[Public Resolution.]

Joint Resolution to revive "An act to secure to the officers and men actually employed in the Western department, or department of Missouri their pay, bounty, and pension, and for other purposes."

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the provisions of a joint resolution entitled "A resolution to suspend all payments under the act approved the 25th of March 1862, entitled 'An act to secure to the officers and men actually employed in the Western department or department of Missouri their pay, bounty, and pension, and for other purposes,'" approved July 12th, 1862, be and they are hereby revived, and the commissioners therein provided for shall be allowed six months from the passage of this resolution within which to make their report.

Approved February 18, 1863.

[Public—No. 8?.]

An Act to allow the United States to prosecute appeals and writs of error without giving security.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That whenever any writ of error, appeal, or other process in law, admiralty, shall issue from or be brought up to the Supreme Court of the the United States or by direction of any Department thereof, no bond, obligation, or security shall be required of the United States or from any party acting under the direction aforesaid, by any judge or clerk of court, either to prosecute said suit or to answer in damages or costs. In case of an adverse decision, such costs as are taxable against the United States shall be paid out of the contingent fund of the Department under whose direction the [illegible] shall have been instituted. And all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Approved February 21, 1863.

[Public—No. 61.]

An Act extending the time for carrying into effect the provisions of the third section of the act entitled "An act relating to highways in the county of Washington and District of Columbia," approved May 1, 1862.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the time named in the third section of the act entitled "An act relating to highways in the county of Washington and District of Columbia," approved May 7, 1862, requiring that the roads designated in said section shall be surveyed, platted, and recorded within one year from the passage of said act, be extended to three years, and the levy court of said county of Washington is hereby authorized to cause the survey, platting, and recording of such roads in each year as it may deem proper and necessary: Provided, That all of said roads be so surveyed, platted, and recorded within the period of three years.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the President of the United States is hereby authorized, by and with the [illegible] of the Senate, to fill any vacancy that may occur in the levy court [illegible] and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the [illegible] are hereby repealed.

Approved February 21, 1863.

[Public—No. 6?.]

An Act to annex a part of the State of New Jersey to the collection district of New York, and to appoint an assistant collector for the [illegible] Jersey city.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all that part of New Jersey which lies north and east of Elizabethtown and Staten Island, comprising the counties of Hudson and Bergen, be and the same is hereby annexed to the collection district of New York; that an assistant collector shall be appointed by the President of the United States, who shall reside at Jersey city, who shall have power to enter and clear vessels in like manner as the collector of New York is authorized by law to do, but such assistant collector shall [illegible] in conformity to such instructions and regulations as he shall from time to time receive from the collector of New York; and the said assistant collector shall receive for his annual salary [illegible] to be performed, and in lieu of commission and fees.

Approved February 21, 1863.

[Public Resolution—No. 10.]

A Resolution to amend the joint resolution for the payment of the expenses of the joint committee of Congress appointed to inquire into the conduct of the war, approved the 27th January, 1862.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That any portion of the amount appropriated by the joint resolution for payment of the expenses of the joint committee of Congress appointed to inquire into the conduct of the war, approved the 27th January, 1862, that may have been or shall hereafter be allowed by the joint committee to witnesses attending before it, or to persons employed in its service for per diem, travelling or other necessary expenses, and paid by the Secretary of the Senate in pursuance of the order of that committee, shall be accordingly allowed by the accounting officers of the Treasury Department.

Approved, February 20, 1863.

[Public Resolution—No. 11.]

A Resolution expelling George E. Badger from the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution, and appointing Louis Agassiz in his place.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That George E. Badger, a member of the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution, who is now giving aid and comfort to the enemies of Government, be and is hereby expelled from the said Board; and that Louis Agassiz, of Cambridge, Massachusetts, be and is hereby appointed a member of the said board to fill the vacancy occasioned by the expulsion of Mr. Badger.

AYER'S
CHERRY
FOR THE RAPID CURE OF Colds, Coughs, and Hoarseness.

BRIMFIELD, MASS., 20th Dec., 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER: I do not hesitate to say the best remedy I have ever found for Coughs, Hoarseness, Influenza, and the concomitant symptoms of a Cold, is your CHERRY PECTORAL. Its constant use in my practice and my family for the last ten years has shown it to possess superior virtues for the treatment of these complaints. EBEN KNIGHT, M. D.

A. B. MORTLEY, Esq., of Utica, N. Y., writes: "I have used your PECTORAL myself and in my family ever since you invented it, and believe it the best medicine for its purpose ever put out. With a bad cold I should sooner pay twenty-five dollars for a bottle than do without it, or take any other remedy."

Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza.

SPRINGFIELD, Miss., [illegible]

BROTHER AYER: I will cheerfully certify your PECTORAL is the best remedy we possess for the cure of Whooping Cough, Croup, and the chest diseases of children. We of your fraternity in the South appreciate your skill and commend your medicine to our people. HIRAM CONKLIN, M. D.

AMOS LEE, Esq., MONTEREY, IA., writes, 3d Jan., 1856: "I had a tedious Influenza, which confined me in doors six weeks; took many medicines without relief, finally tried your PECTORAL by the advice of our clergyman. The first dose relieved the soreness in my throat and lungs; less than one half the bottle made me completely well. Your medicines are the cheapest as well as the best we can buy, and we esteem you, Doctor, and your remedies, as the poor man's friend."

Asthma or Phthisic, and Bronchitis.

WEST MANCHESTER, PA., [illegible]

SIR: Your CHERRY PECTORAL is performing marvellous cures in this section. It has relieved several from alarming symptoms of consumption, and is now curing a man who has labored under an affection of the lungs for the last forty years. HENRY L. PARKS, Merchant.

A. A. RAMSEY, M. D., ALBION, MONROE CO., IOWA, writes, Sept. 6, 1855: "During my practice of many years I have found nothing equal to your CHERRY PECTORAL for giving ease and relief to consumptive patients, or curing such as are curable."

We might add volumes of evidence, but the most convincing proof of the virtues of this remedy is found in its effects upon trial.

Consumption.

Probably no one remedy has ever been known which cured so many and such dangerous cases as this. Some no human aid can reach; but even to those the CHERRY PECTORAL affords relief and comfort.

ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK CITY, [illegible]

DOCTOR AYER, LOWELL: I feel it a duty and a pleasure to inform you what your CHERRY PECTORAL has done for my wife. She had been five months laboring under the dangerous symptoms of Consumption, from which no aid we could procure gave her much relief. She was steadily failing, until Dr. Strong, of this city, where we have come for advice, recommended a trial of your medicine. We bless his kindness, as we do your skill, for she has recovered from that day. She is not yet as strong as she used to be, but is free from her cough, and calls herself well. Yours, with gratitude and regard, ORLANDO SHELBY, of Shelbyville.

Consumptives, do not despair till you have tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is made by one of the best medical chemists in the world, and its cures all round us bespeak the high merits of its virtues.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

THE sciences of Chemistry and Medicine have been taxed their utmost to produce this best, most perfect purgative which is known to man. Innumerable proofs are shown that these PILLS have virtues which surpass in excellence the ordinary medicines, and that they win unprecedentedly upon the esteem of all men. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. Their penetrating properties stimulate the vital activities of the body, remove the obstructions of its organs, purify the blood, and expel disease. They purge out the foul humors which breed and grow distemper, stimulate sluggish or disordered organs into their natural action, and impart healthy tone with strength to the whole system. Not only do they cure the every day complaints of every body, but also formidable and dangerous diseases that have baffled the best of human skill. While they produce powerful effects, they are at the same time, in diminished doses, the safest and best physic that can be employed for children. Being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take; and being purely vegetable, are free from any risk of harm. Cures have been made which surpass belief were they not substantiated by men of such exalted position and character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth. Many eminent clergymen and physicians have lent their names to certify to the public the reliability of my remedies, while others have sent me the assurance of their conviction that my Preparations contribute immensely to the relief of my afflicted, suffering fellow-men.

The Agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing directions for the use and certificates of their cures of the following complaints:—

Costiveness, Bilious Complaints, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Heartburn, Headache arising from a foul Stomach, Nausea, Indigestion, Morbid Inaction of the Bowels and Pain arising therefrom, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, all Ulcerous and Cutaneous Diseases which require an evacuant Medicine, Scrofula or King's Evil. They also, by purifying the blood and stimulating the system, cure many complaints which it would not be supposed they could reach, such as Deafness, Partial Blindness, Neuralgia and Nervous Irritability, Derangements of the Liver and Kidneys, Gout, and other kindred complaints arising from a low state of the body or obstruction of its functions.

Do not be put off by unprincipled dealers with some other pill they make more profit on. Ask for AYER'S PILLS, and take nothing else. No other they can give you compares with this in its intrinsic value or curative powers. The sick want the best aid there is for them, and they should have it.

Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.
